
MICHELLE CALDER

“Singing To The Other Side”

Beyond the veil, I can hardly see
I knew it once, and still believe That someday you will come for me

Different rays of the same bright sun
All connected, we're all one

So please just stay by me
Walk me through the darkness
Until I'm home in the light again
I've so much left to see
I've got miles of ground to cover
Until I see your face again
But I miss you, you

Through the trees I walk with ease
Their energy's a part of me
I hear your song among the leaves

I chose the dark to know the light
To be without, gives true insight

So please just stay by me
Walk me through the darkness
Until I'm home in the light again
I've so much left to see
I've got miles of ground to cover
Until I see your face again
But I miss you, you

Stay, stay by me
See, I know you still see me
You're never really gone

So please just stay by me
Walk me through the darkness
Until I'm home in the light again
I've so much left to see
I've got miles of ground to cover
Until I see your face again
But I miss you, you
You, you